QOHASH

Real-time visibility and control over your sensitive data

Qohash monitors high-risk unstructured data within your organization

Spend less time worrying about risks: gain visibility and control over your organization's riskiest data sources - those accessed daily by your team.

Who has access to your sensitive data?

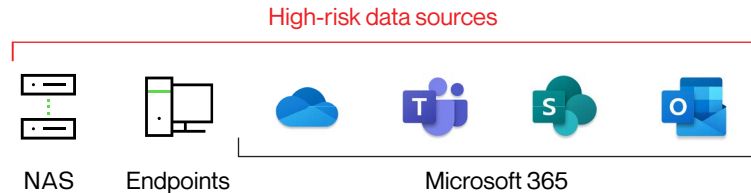

Sensitive data is hiding in all kinds of files.

Address the 80% blindspot of high-risk unstructured data

Your employees have access to many files. Sensitive data is hiding in some of them. Traditional approaches almost entirely ignore this huge area of risk.

Qohash's Qostodian platform secures your unstructured data

Qostodian is a data security posture management (DSPM) platform designed to provide you with 24/7 visibility and control over the unstructured data your team uses every day.

You hate wasting time. You'll love us. Quick deployment and granular data tracking

Qostodian can be deployed organization-wide within days, tracking individual data elements (e.g., social security numbers - SSN) as they move between files and data sources.
